

Governor Profile

Name: Andy Grant

Type of Governor: Headteacher

Why I want to be a Governor at Russell Hall: Being Headteacher I was automatically a governor of the school. My passion is ensuring every child at this school has the best education to give them the best possible start in life. I want everyone to leave Russell Hall as well rounded, lifelong learners who are ready for the next stage in their education. Being a governor allows me to make decisions to ensure that this can happen.

Background: I started my career as a teaching assistant and worked hard becoming a teacher and school leader. I have worked in a number of different schools across Bradford and Kirklees so I have a wealth of experience as a teacher, school leader and a governor.

Skills and areas of interest: My background is heavily focused on teaching and learning, ensuring children get the best possible education. Being a governor has allowed me to develop my skills in the use of finance and recruitment so that the school's books balance and we have the best staff in place for our children.

Hobbies: Outside of school I enjoy spending time with my family. I work hard during term time but weekends and holidays are important to us. I firmly believe that travel broadens the mind. I enjoy running and have taken part in a number of races (not usually finishing close to the front of the pack but always enjoying myself!). I enjoy walking, eating out and meeting up with my friends when we can. If it is a rainy day, I can be found watching a Bond film or cooking up a storm!
